FOUND ANTI-JAPANESE SENTIMENT IN U. S.

Mr. Jonas of Kobe Saw It In Debates In Congress

F. M. Jonas, an exporter of Kobe, Japan, who came in this morning on the Korea, and will go out on her when she leaves for the Orient this afternoon, is just returning from a three months' stay in the States, where he has been for the purpose of getting the tariff on mattings revised. He is well acquainted with international questions.

"The object of my visit was to get Mr. Payne, the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means," he said this morning, "to get through a revision of the wording of the tariff on mattings. As it now stands, the wording of the law is such that it allows dishonest traders to get the advantage of the more legitimate traders, and hampers large importers on the Pacific coast, as well as the Japanese exporters. I represented the Japanese Guild which control the matting industry there."

"The present wording of the law is: '3c per yard on matting costing 10c per yard, or less, and 7c per yard plus 25 per cent ad valorem on matting costing over 10c per yard.' It is in the ad valorem part that the trouble comes. I wished him to make it a uniform rate and specific, or make a distinction founded on the warp."

"I have been asked a good deal about the Tatsu boycott. I always say that China is a vast country, and the Chinaman is as ready as anyone to realize the need of ready means of communication in order for the country to prosper. He is not going to sacrifice the privilege of better transportation and wealth for what you might call patriotism."

"The boycott will not last long. It may be effective for a while in Hongkong and the southern ports, but it will not be what the originators of the idea wanted it to be, by any means. It is dying out of itself, I understand, and soon no one will hear anything about it."

"I was present in the gallery of the House at the time of the debates when four more battleships were wanted. There was a sentiment among the Congressmen, it seemed to me, unfavorable to Japan, but I think that some of it was adopted to carry their point." Mr. Jonas says that the feeling in Japan is very friendly toward the United States.

He declines to discuss the Korean situation.
